Re: Human Rights and the Duty to Accommodate Workshop
May 2 and 3, 2018

To build the capacity of stewards to support members who require an accommodation, HEU is launching Human Rights and the Duty to Accommodate. This is an important new workshop for members who want a deeper knowledge of human rights legislation and how it relates to the duty to accommodate.

The workshop will be offered on May 2 and 3, 2018 at the HEU Provincial Office, 5000 North Fraser Way, Burnaby, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In the Human Rights and Duty to Accommodate workshop members will:

- Build their knowledge of human rights principles and BC Human Rights Code;
- Learn about the duty to accommodate process; and
- Learn about resources available for members who require an accommodation.

Interested members should return their applications to the Provincial Office Attention: Jamie Cruz, Education Department by 5 p.m., Tuesday, March 27, 2018. Please return only ONE copy of the application – either by fax or mail.

Depending on the total number of applicants, there may be a selection process. We will be contacting applicants by telephone or mail once the selection process has finished.

In solidarity,
