HEY, KIDS – WIN an iPad or iPad MINI!

April 28th is the day we remember workers who have been killed or injured because of the work they do.

It is a day that offers employees, employers and the public the opportunity to remember the dead, injured and ill, as well as publicly renew their commitment to improve health and safety in the workplace.

Our HEU People with disAbilities Standing Committee has chosen the Blue Poppy to represent those workers. The annual Blue Poppy campaign started in 1999 and this year, we have, once again, added a colouring contest, giving young people the opportunity to learn about this important day.
